

BAPTIST LISTEN TO EULOGY WHILE TYLER IS DYING

miles, ten colleges and seminaries, seven publication societies, thirty-seven church-houses, eighteen missionary homes, eight hospitals, and three women's training schools. There are in all 138 objects to be covered by this fund. Already $37,375.83 has been paid in on this fund, and $251,781 subscribed to be paid in three years. So far no campaign for this fund has been pushed in Virginia, and only $422 has been contributed in Virginia. As a very large part of the past year has been used to gather the necessary and accurate information as to the needs in the field, it is indeed gratifying that so much has already been paid.

The literature prepared by Dr. Ray enables contributors to know exactly where their gifts to this fund will go.

Describes Field in China. The chief speaker of the evening as to this fund was Rev. Dr. Bryan, D. D., a native of North Carolina, and now one of the missionaries in China. Dr. Bryan described how recently he was called on in China to speak to great crowds of soldiers and in the presence of high officials. All of these opportunities to speak the gospel contrasted sharply with experiences in America. He is gathered in a way that he has never known before. He is in the lives of himself and family were in danger.

His heart so thrilled at these experiences that he longed to take his family to America to tell Christians in this country that not only are the gates of China open, but the walls are all down. Dr. Bryan is convinced that when Christians in the United States see the vision they will be ready as to the provision.

Dr. Bryan was followed by Dr. T. B. Ray, who has charge of the Judson campaign. He spoke of how carefully the exact needs of the various fields were ascertained. The needs of the fields thus reported were, when summed up, $100,000 in excess of the $1,250,000 provided for by the Judson fund.

It was a painful process, cutting down this estimate by $100,000. All this information is gathered in a pamphlet. A little while ago one man was asked for $12,500 to pay for a lot for a school in Tokyo, Japan. After a brief deliberation, he promised to give this sum. Dr. Ray said that the economy, and not extravagance, characterized the program of equipment of the Judson fund.

A magnificent audience heard the address, and many could not find seats. The gallery displayed a picture of a Dontram Judson and this motto: "We need the Judson spirit!" The meeting was a good omen for the success of the Judson campaign.

Modern Methods Urged. Application of modern efficiency methods to missionary work was urged by Miss E. E. Heck, president of the Woman's Missionary Union, in an address before the twenty-fifth annual convention of the union, Miss Heck proposed the appointment of three committees to study the question and report back to the union at its next annual meeting.

"Missionary efficiency is still nebulous," Miss Heck asserted. "From the point of view of the future, we should be able to add to our efficiency, and to our missionary efficiency. An important step in reaching a universal standard is to abandon, once for all, the belief that our circumstances are peculiar. We have the same line of business, the same line of effort and result, and the one that does not reach it fails in business."

In so homogeneous a territory as ours, a method notably successful in one State will be equally successful in another. In placing before the individual society a uniform standard, we have gone far towards standardizing our work. However, we have given few authoritative corrections for the attainment. In the methods of the society in town and country, there must be a difference, but the problems of towns and country places from one of our territory to the other are the same. Hundreds of thoughtful and consecrated women are giving uncounted time to solving them. How shall all profit by the failures and successes of all? How shall the lonely worker be enriched by the counsel of hundreds?

"I have made no secret of my hope that putting our Mission Fields on a self-supporting basis as a quarterly was a step toward making it speedily a monthly. I would suggest a Union magazine as our clearing house of missionary methods. But helpful as this would be in standardizing our efficiency, its directness of purpose would be increased by carrying out a recommendation which I desire to make for the present year. This is that you appoint or authorize to be appointed three commissions on efficiency, which shall submit their annual reports to you at your next annual session. These commissions should be known as the Commission on Organized Efficiency, the Commission on the Efficiency of the Urban Society, and the Commission on the Efficiency of the Rural Society."

The duties of these commissions will be no onerous. They will be charged with gathering material for our whole organization in the different branches indicated; sifting out the immaterial; studying other organizations

Lexington, Va., May 14.—The Athletic Union has secured the services of H. L. Wood, of Princeton, for the White and Blue football coach for next season. The securing of a coach of ability and one of experience as coach and has been a long and arduous task. The Athletic Union has been a question of securing the services of a coach for some time. Mr. Wood is a very capable and experienced coach, and his appointment is a great asset to the Union. Every effort possible was made to secure the services of a Yale man, but this was impossible for two years ago. Mr. Wood is a Yale man, but this was impossible for two years ago.

Coch Dowd comes very highly recommended and has a very brilliant football career. He has not only played several positions himself, but he has had several years of experience as a coach, and has been able to turn out winning teams. He will graduate from Princeton in 1914, and will then enter St. Luke's Hospital of New York as a member of the medical staff.

Coch Dowd is an all-around athlete. He has the following athletic record: Princeton, 1908 and 1909, left end on the Princeton football team, and also a member of the "gym" team. In 1908 and 1909 he was "sub" end on the Princeton football team. In 1908 and 1909 he was regular end on the Princeton football team. As can be seen by his record, he is not only a man who is good in one branch of sports, but he has been connected with many and has been thrown with a great number of men who are good in one branch of sports. In 1909 he reached the championship Princeton football team. In 1909 and 1910 he coached Stevens Institute, Hoboken, N. J. In 1912 he coached the Princeton football team.

Arrangements have been closed with D. C. Moorman, who was assistant coach last year, to again come back to Washington and Lee in the same capacity. Washington and Lee is very fortunate in securing the services of Coach Dowd, who is one of the best players ever turned out from Washington and Lee.

Field Day at Richmond College. The annual field and track trial at Richmond College will be held on Saturday, May 17. The winner of a letter in any branch of sports will be given five points. Since O'Neil has been the football, baseball and track team, giving him a start of fifteen points, he is the popular favorite for the all-around athlete's championship.

of a character similar to our own; contrasting, criticizing, approving, and from the mass of facts bring to us some definite conclusions and recommendations.

"If these commissions are to be effective, they must have wider help, many offering them the benefit of their experience. If effective, as I expect them to be, they should be followed by others, taking up such questions as the training of leaders, the ingathering of children and the future of royal ambassadors. Surely this present gathering opens for us a year of great significance. My desire is that this jubilee year shall be an great starting point for missionary efficiency as 1888 for missionary organization; that in 1913 we will say, 'Our wonderful growth began in 1913.'

"But have a care. Many a time a great celebration has exhausted the missionary energy for years to follow. We want no nervous collapse to follow, no overdone campaign to blot out all other thoughts. This would be worse than useless—disastrous."

Signal Victories Won. Two signal victories won during the past year by the Woman's Missionary Union auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention, according to the report of the corresponding secretary, Kathleen Mallory, have been:

"First, the reception by the foreign mission board of our duly appointed representative to meet with the board and any unmarried woman is an applicant for work in the foreign field; and

"Second, the approval on the part of the Sunday school board and of the home mission and foreign mission boards of our union's program, and submitting, through its chosen representative, its own formal report to each annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention."

During the year, during this period she has traveled for the union 6,600 miles, made sixty-two addresses, filled fifty appointments, attended five State conventions and visited eight States, 4,000 mile boxes and 47,000 correspondence envelopes.

"Our relationship with the Baptists of the world is emphasized," she continues, "the fact that we hold the secretaryship of the world's largest organization, the Baptist World Alliance and are thus closely in touch with the statistics and greetings from our sisters in faith and baptism in both hemispheres. The Union has been a source of thanks for this to Mrs. Edith Crane Latham and also to her and Miss Nancy Lee Swann for invaluable service in establishing upon a firm, constitutional basis the relationship of the Woman's Missionary Union."

"The situation is just this," rejoined Mr. Underwood, amid applause by the Democrats, "if you look through the tariff headlines you will find the tariff is a tariff. Whether any one is injured probably will not be known until daylight."

ELLYSON FILES SUIT. Birdman Wants Damages for Injuries Received on Railway. Washington, May 15.—Lieutenant T. G. Ellyson, attached to the United States Navy aviation squad, successfully brought suit for great heights only to tumble down a flight of stairs in the Union Station here. As a result of the fall, Ellyson was injured, and the navy officer has brought suit against the railroad companies for $10,000 damages. The suit is filed in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. The accident occurred on January 16, when Ellyson was descending the stairs to a train he stepped on some gravel or dirt, and fell a distance of about 20 feet. His right ankle was fractured, and Lieutenant Ellyson declares that as a result of the injury he was denied the 25 per cent increase in salary recently allowed to navy officers who volunteer for the aviation squad.

Interest has been excited by Governor Johnson's quotation of that part of the California law which appears to limit his action, so far as it recognizes Japanese rights, to the existing treaty of 1911, and there is some speculation as to whether that was intended to forebode a refusal on the part of the California authorities to be bound by stipulations of any treaty that may hereafter be negotiated between the United States and Japan that would appear to be in conflict with the provisions of the new law.
